Perhaps the most rewarding and yet most frustrating relationship in our lives is the one with our spouse. No other relationship holds such promise for good or potential for pain. Even having a Christian marriage does not immunize us from the problems and pressures of the world. We struggle with the same issues that others do: communication, time management, money, sex, etc.

Mastering your Marriage provides tools for developing strong and divorce-proof marriages. The series is designed to be fun while looking at ways to understand ourselves, our spouse, and our marriage.

Because it is our desire to make Mastering your Marriage as meaningful as possible, the following requirements will help maximize your experience. Each couple will be asked to:

- Attend at least seven of the eight classes in order to graduate to our Marriage 201 class.
- Complete a short homework assignment each week.
- Read a book together as a couple during the eight weeks and complete a book report.
- Commit to one TV free evening each week for the duration of the class.

Topics Include...

Living by the Book...

This first class will set the tone for the entire series by understanding God's design for our marriages.

Buttons, Hooks and Triggers...

In this session we will focus on how insight into our past can be used to grow and enhance our marriage today.

Understanding (and Appreciating) Our Differences...

Understanding and appreciating our differences will make them work to our advantage.

He Said / She Said...

What did you say? We will examine and practice communication basics.

Ouch, That Hurt!...

Looking at conflicts in our marriages, we will strive to make those hurts a place of healing.

Moving On...

Finding ways as a couple to keep growing and learning beyond Mastering your Marriage. Our relationship should be a shared adventure that gets better with each year.
